Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Golden Era, Vol. 41 He complimented me upon what he was pleased to term my frankness and my felicity, and proceeded: May I respectfully ask you to present your impressions touching the creation of this beautiful world? Do you believe that this world was made in six days, and that Adam was the first man; that there were mountains high enough for Moses to ascend and hold converse with Jehovah; and that during what factitious writers call the flood, rain fell incessantly for forty days and forty nights, mandating the planet upon which we live, and that every human being except Noah and his family - and all other living creatures except those which it is claimed were also taken into the ark - were drowned or were otherwise swept from the face of the earth? This was only a simple questions to be safe: but there was enough in it to somewhat indicate the character of the person who had asked it. In other words I suddenly felt that I knew my man: and I replied, therefore, with as much precision and impressiveness as I could quickly summon: I spring from good old New England dyed-in-the-wood Puritanical stock. Sir, and I believe everything touching the creation and the destruction of the world as recorded in the Bible. I have never examined the dangerous writings of Volney, Voltaire, Paine, Ingersoll, Darwin, Huxley, Draper or Renau. I believe, firmly in the existence of heaven and of hell, and hope for no perfect bliss except what to be found in Abraham s bosom. Pardon me, sir: but I will come directly to the point: I do believe...
