But we are wandering on, From hill to hill the star-light sleeps, Across the bog to yonder deeps. And now tis autumn time: We hear all night the screeching loon, Timed by the stroke of Ocean s boom. For days, the Wind from out the east, Has blown his fiercest trumpet wild, And high o er all the roaring tide. O lay beneath the pines at night! Long after weary storms have ceased, And hear old Ocean mourn in grief. O hear at night on old Cape Cod, The mystic echoes round the shore! The glory of old Ocean s roar! WE marked the morning s early light, Glance radiant o er the low dark hills, And gild afar the quaint wind-mills. The sandy knolls were touched with gold Where grew the thistle seared and pale, And...
