BACK FROM THE BRINK: IRELAND'S ROAD TO RECOVERY

Transworld Ireland, 2009. Paperback. Book Condition: BRAND NEW. We're in the midst of a global economic crisis and a domestic economic disaster. But enough of the hand-wringing. Where did this all come from, where are we now and, most importantly, what's going to happen next? In a compelling and jargon-free argument, economist Marc Coleman makes sense of this mess we're in with clear, accessible analysis of Ireland's economic situation and where it might be heading. Addressing first the global dimension - how early warnings were ignored, why American monetary policy failed the world and why an unfinished revolution in globalisation left us defenceless - Coleman makes a case for a new kind of capitalism. The unravelling threads that created the Irish financial crisis are also untangled. The death of competitiveness, the mismanagement of tax revenues, issues of demographics, bad urban planning, stupid banks and an unsuccessful regulator are all examined and, combined with dysfunctional politics, are shown to be the root causes of the predicament we now find ourselves in. But all is not lost. With a positive, can-do approach to the economic crisis, Coleman creates a fix-it manual for the future, explaining how Ireland can prosper again by adopting a smart economy, reforming social partnership and curing a warped fiscal cycle with budgetary and electoral reform. Ireland's economic nightmare will end. It is a dream not destroyed, merely delayed. Marc Coleman is Newstalk Radio's Economic Editor and TV3 News' Economics Commentator. He also writes a column for Ireland's bestselling Sunday newspaper, the Sunday Independent. He was previously the economics editor for the Irish Times and prior to that worked for seven years as a European Central Bank economist. 336 pages. 21.6 x 13.4 x 2.6 cm.
