The value-added product mix and Inputs worksheet tables 12a through 12e - A separate table for each of the first 5 years of the project allows the user to represent an operational strategy. For example, the user may intend to manufacture only clear flooring until the market for rustic flooring can be developed. In this case, the percent of deckboards used for the manufacture of clear flooring would be greater in the first year of the project than in later years. Inputs worksheet table 13 requires a yield estimate. In this case, the yield is the percent of the square footage of deckboards initially selected for flooring manufacture that actually become flooring. For example, if 50 square feet of flooring are produced for every 100 square feet of deckboard material, the percent yield is 50 percent. The yield estimate recognizes that some deckboard material will be lost in both the drying and...
