It may be about a wizard and it does contain scenes which are supernatural, but the real magic is the relationship between the wizard and his wife Tara. The relationship of this young couple takes place in a modern day city where he works as an accountant. He was born with an innate ability to perform magic and in union with his Christian faith finds himself using his abilities to thwart the actions of supernatural powers as well as mortal ones that would bring harm to others. Written in the first person the wizard tells his story, but the only thing that really matters to him is Tara and the story unfolds from the vantage point of their love story. Action and adventure, myth and magic are by products of the wizard s true story regarding Tara, her person, and his love and devotion to her. He takes us through the moments in their young lives including their first meeting and their love being lived out in the day to day with...
